Mexican Dictator Intimates to Friends That He Will Be Ready to Resist Such a Step

Negotiations With Constitutional- ists Have Developed Into Com- plicated Problem of Diplomacy

HAS REACHED CRUCIAL STATE

Many in Mexico City Believe the United States Will Soon In- augurate Blockade of Ports

CONGRESS OPENS TOMORROW

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico, Nov. 17.—Obstacles developed since the fall of Juarez created a feeling of uncertainty and discouragement to right as to the outcome of the diplomatic changes between the United States and the Mexican constitutionalists.

President Wilson's envoy, William Baynard Hale, conferred twice today with Francisco Escudero, Carranza's minister of foreign relations and it became apparent that a situation had arisen which would tax the diplomacy of both sides to bring about a satisfactory solution. It was evident that the capture of Juarez and other rebel successes in the interior had encouraged General Carranza's leaders to such an extent that they believed the lifting of the American embargo of the importation of arms was not necessary as previously had seemed.

On the other hand it appeared that the original expectation of the insurgents that the ban on the transfer of war munitions across the line would be lifted, had been met with more definite requirements from the Washington government.

No Prediction as to Outcome.

The earlier between Mr. Hale and General Carranza and the latter's representatives reach a crucial state last night. After a conference with Mr. Hale late today, Foreign Minister Escudero said he expected the negotiations to end with twenty-four hours but he would venture no prediction as to the outcome. He added, however, that there would be another meeting perhaps the final one tomorrow.

"Mr. Hale is a man of rare culture and sincerity," was the extent of his further remarks.

Mr. Hale said Escudero was a diplomat of rare ability and declaring he was weary, retired to the American consulate.

Since last night communications to Mr. Hale from Washington have been unusually lengthy. It required the entire staff of the consulate assisted by Mr. Hale to translate them today from the code.

Meeting Is Secret.

In contrast with former conferences, when Mr. Hale met General Carranza and his staff in the customs house, in full view of the populace, peering through windows, today's meeting was attended by the closest privacy. Hale and Escudero met yesterday at the home of Yancio Benillas, another member of the revolutionary cabinet who acted as translator.

Escudero said tonight that he based his belief on a result within 24 hours upon the outcome of the conference yesterday in which, he said, Mr. Hale had received "impressions" regarding what the constitutionalists believed necessary for the salvation of their country. Another reason for hurrying the finale, he said, was the eagerness of the constitutionalists to continue their imposed task of crushing out Huertism.

"We wish to complete these negotiations soon, as we are eager to enter into the work of the reconstruction of Mexico," he said. "To the embargo of arms would be a very desirable thing, but it is not absolutely necessary to the success of the revolution. It is possible that embargo will be raised but we will win in any event."

This statement of Escudero's, in view of the fact that the lifting of the embargo on arms was the only thing Carranza asked for in reiterated utterances last week, was taken as an indication that the negotiations begun by Mr. Hale as a simple proposition had developed into a complicated problem of diplomacy.

FIND WOMAN'S BODY IN PHARMACY CELLAR

DRUG CLERK TELLS QUEER STORY AND IS HELD FOR CORONER

Michael L. Sweeney Appears in Highly Nervous State When Questioned and Tells Disconnected Story of How the Woman Reached the Cellar—Authorities do Not Believe His Version.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 17.—The body of Mrs. Mayme Greinelsen, aged 35, wife of Oliver Greinelsen, a west end drug clerk, was found late today lying face downward on a cinder pile in the cellar of C. A. Givens' pharmacy, located in the south side of the city.

Practically nude, the body was scratched and bruised. The woman's left eye was discolored and her hair knotted and unkempt.

Michael L. Sweeney, a drug clerk, employed in the Givens' Pharmacy, was arrested in the store a few minutes after the woman's body was found. Sweeney was in a highly nervous condition and told a disconnected story of how the woman reached the cellar. He said Mrs. Greinelsen walked into the Givens' Pharmacy about 8 o'clock last night almost nude and that he and "Tom Hawkins" or "Harkins" picked her up and carried her into the cellar.

Mumbling incoherently, Sweeney was locked up in a police station cell tonight and will be turned over to the coroner tomorrow. A search is being made for the "Tom" mentioned by Sweeney.

The authorities doubt the story told by Sweeney as to Mrs. Greinelsen's appearance at Givens' Pharmacy, claiming it impossible for a woman almost nude, to walk through a number of streets early Sunday evening without detection.

The woman's husband, Oliver Greinelsen, is employed by his father as a clerk in a west end drug store.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED NAVAJOS ON WARPATH

Indians Rally in Defense of Eight Renegades Who Escape from U. S. Marshall

ASK FOR TROOPS OF CAVALRY

The Navajos Are Fortified on High Table Mountain and U. S. Marshal Asks War Department for Two Troops of Cavalry

INDIANS ARE PREPARED FOR SIEGE

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 17.—Fifteen hundred Navajo Indians rallied in defense of eight renegades and are reported in armed encampment on Beautiful Mountain, 35 miles southwest of the Shiprock Agency, defying United States Marshal Hudspeeth to take prisoner the renegades who are wanted on federal warrants charging horse stealing, assault and bigamy.

Two troops of cavalry have been asked for by the marshal and the request has been referred by the war department to Major General Carter in command of the border patrol.

It is feared that before the cavalry arrives the renegades will be joined by many more at the command of the medicine men and of the plural wife men who are reported to be stirring the Navajos to rebellion.

The Indians are fortifying on a high table mountain, the summit of which is approachable by only one tortuous road.

Agent Shelton is at the agency waiting the arrival of the troops. No word was received tonight that they had started.

Marshal Hudspeeth after surveying the position of the Indians returned here tonight with three of the original eleven renegades he was sent from here ten days ago to arrest. The eight others escaped and rallied their tribesmen to the defense before the marshal reached the agency.

The request for troops was made after a conference at the reservation between Indian Agents Shelton and Parquet and Major J. T. McLaughlin, after the Navajos had sent word that the renegades would not be given up and that they would not only resist arrest but that if attacked they would resist, burn the agency and kill those in charge.

At the suggestion of Major McLaughlin cavalry was asked because of the moral effect which the sheriff's posse could not produce.

An investigation during the day by the marshal and the Indian agents showed that the Indians surrounding the renegade leaders had rounded their cattle and sheep, harvested their corn and otherwise made ready for a siege.

The Indians are led by Chief Black Horse and one hundred and fifty young bucks. Their encampment surrounds the Noel trading post on Beautiful Mountain.

GOV. COLQUITT OF TEXAS WILL NOT WAIT FOR WASHINGTON TO ACT IF MEXICANS START TROUBLE

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 17.—"In the event Mexicans start any trouble, we will protect our citizens and not wait for Washington to act," declared Gov. O. B. Colquitt late today, after a conference with Adjutant General Hutchings. While no official statement was given out it is known that the Texas National Guard is in readiness to answer quickly any call that might be made. The conference was the outcome of a threat by Mexicans today to make Texas "answer to the whole Mexican people" unless mercy was shown Mexican ammunition smugglers charged with murder.

Governor Colquitt did not appraise Washington of today's events. He said that during a recent outbreak along the Mexican border, federal troops did not act until the Texas rangers had been called out.

Mexicans threaten Texas. Threats to make Texas "answer to the whole Mexican people" unless mercy is shown Mexican ammunition smugglers arrested last September at Carriso Springs, Texas, was telegraphed to Governor O. B. Colquitt today by 127 Mexicans under San Marcos, Texas, date. There were fourteen Mexican smugglers, eleven of whom are still awaiting trial. The telegram recites sentences imposed upon smugglers who have been convicted and condemned:

"We notice that the other men are going to be convicted and sentenced to be hanged and we will tell you, Mr. Colquitt, if such a thing happens, Texas will answer before the whole Mexican community for crimes without precedent in legal history."

The governor replied: "I do insist that Mexicans must respect the rights of citizens of Texas and I will protect lives and property of our people to the best of my ability with the means at my disposal. The laws of this state must be upheld and vindicated and I desire to inform you that your threat to make Texas answer before the whole Mexican community is certainly a brazen one and if any violence should come to American citizens as a result of your threat, each of you will be held personally responsible to the law."

The Mexicans signing the telegram reside mostly in San Marcos and vicinity.

WEATHER BUREAU ISSUES STATEMENT

DENIES ALLEGATION THAT RECENT STORM WAS NOT WELL HERALDED

Statement Declares the Records Show That Every Weather Bureau Means For Discriminating News of Such Storms Was Used and That the Severity of the Storm Was Fully Recognized by Officials in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—In reply to published charges that the weather bureau had given inadequate warning to shipping on the great lakes of the approach of last week's terrible storm resulting in a known loss of 254 lives and to the announcement by Representative Gordon of Ohio that he would seek an investigation of the matter, the bureau tonight issued a statement declaring the "the storm throughout its course was heralded in as complete a manner as possible."

"On Thursday," the statement says, "when the storm was over Canadian northwest, small craft warnings were displayed at every station over the great lakes. On Friday at 10 a. m., as the storm advanced and increased in intensity signals were changed to storm warnings and displayed at every point on the great lakes as far east as Oswego. During the passage of the storm eastward, warnings continued throughout the whole lake region and were accompanied by forecasts of lower temperatures and snow."

"On Sunday morning owing to an approaching secondary storm, moving northward in an abnormal manner the added precaution was taken to repeat the storm warnings on the great lakes from Detroit eastward, those on the northern lakes being continued under existing rules. Finally, Sunday evening, storm warnings were displayed again on the upper lakes except upper Lake Michigan and western Superior."

"The records show that every weather bureau means for disseminating news of such storms was used. Disasters were made at 112 points along the lake shores, including 19 weather bureau stations from any one of which special information could have been obtained upon request. The severity of the storm was fully recognized by the officials in Washington and no information concerning it was concealed or withheld."

GOV. O'NEAL APPOINTS BIRMINGHAM EDITOR

APPOINTS FRANKLIN P. GLASS TO SUC- CEED LATE SEN. J. F. JOHNSTONE

Alabama Executive's Appointment Revives the Situation That Existed When the Senate Declined to Act on Gov. O'Neal's Appointment of Representative Clayton.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 17.—Governor O'Neal today appointed Franklin P. Glass, editor of Birmingham News, to be United States senator, succeeding the late Senator Joseph F. Johnston.

Previously Governor O'Neal had appointed Representative Henry D. Clayton to fill the unexpired term. Before the United States senate could pass on the nomination, there having been question raised as to the governor's authority since the ratification of seventeenth amendment. Mr. Clayton declined the appointment. President Wilson had expressed a wish that he remain at the head of the house judiciary committee.

Governor O'Neal declares his legal advisor has prepared a brief answering arguments against the governor's power to appoint and which in the governor's judgment is "convincing and conclusive."

Declined to Act on Appointment.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The appointment of Franklin P. Glass, to be United States senator from Alabama, revives the situation that existed when the senate declined to act on Governor O'Neal's appointment of Representative Clayton, but referred it to the senate committee on privileges and elections, where some senators contended a governor could not now appoint a senator without authority from the legislature.

The committee had not decided the question when it was taken from its hands by the resignation of Mr. Clayton.

Mr. Glass took part in the Washington conference between Alabama leaders and President Wilson just prior to the retirement of Representative Clayton as an aspirant.

A letter from Governor Johnson of California stating that he had passed "many sleepless nights" in Chicago because of the noise of Lake Front railroads was read at the hearing.

TO SUBMIT DRAFT TO SENATE BY THURSDAY

Both Wings of Senate Banking and Currency Committee Will Complete Currency Bill Drafts

RE-OPEN DELIBERATIONS

Six Administration Democrats Consider Changing Bill to Shift Reserves of Country to New Regional Reserve Banks

SENATORS MAY GET NO HOLIDAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Definite agreement today by both the administration and the anti-administration wings of the senate banking and currency committee to complete their drafts of the currency bill and submit them to the senate by Thursday was followed by general talk at the capital of an adjournment of congress over Thanksgiving. Informal discussion of the possibility of adjournment on both sides of the capital, however, failed to take any definite shape. No adjournment will be taken without the consent of the president and he has not yet made known his views. In the senate it was believed the president might agree to a brief recess, although it has been known that he desired to have congress in session in the event of emergencies arising in the Mexican situation Saturday, Monday and Tuesday have been suggested as possible dates for adjournment in conferences of house and senate leaders.

Majority Leader Underwood, due to return from his senatorial campaign in Alabama on Thursday is expected to take up this question with President Wilson.

Both Wings Continue Work.

Both wings of the senate committee continued work on their bills today. The six administration Democrats re-opened their deliberations to consider the advisability of altering the provision in the Glass-Owen bill for shifting the reserves of the country from the present depositories to the new regional reserve banks. It has been suggested that the provision might make too great a demand on the banking resources of the country and result in the calling of loans and consequent stringency.

The Democrats reached no definite agreement, but Chairman Owen agreed to tabulate the figures available on the subject and present them to the committee tomorrow.

Increase Gold Reserve.

Senator Hitchcock and the Republicans continued to write their draft of the bill. They increased the gold reserve to be held against the new currency to 45 per cent and provided that when the reserve fell below that point it should be taxed on a graduated scale down to the minimum of 30 per cent. The bond refunding section was completely changed. As amended it would provide that each regional bank should each year invest fifty per cent of its available capital in the two per cent bonds of the treasury which are the basis of the present bank notes. The regional banks would then be allowed to exchange the two per cent bonds for three per cent, one year government notes, agreeing to renew the notes for twenty years. These notes would be available for use in foreign markets to secure gold to maintain the reserve. The Republicans also made numerous amendments, correcting what they regarded as deficiencies in the bill and making the latter conform to amendments already adopted.

Miss Mabel D. Todd and Edwin M. Goveia to Be Married December 25.

At a birthday party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Ranson, west of the city, in honor of Miss Mabel D. Todd, the engagement of Miss Todd to Edwin M. Goveia was announced Saturday evening.

The guest list included members of the Loyal Daughters class of the Lynnville Christian Sunday school, and their friends and a delightful time was spent playing games. Slips bearing verses from the Bible were given to the guests in order that they might find their partners for supper, and when they took their places the guests were much surprised to find at their places cards announcing the engagement. The wedding is to take place December 25. A two course supper was served after which a pleasant time was spent in playing games and with music. One of the amusing features of the evening was a game in which Mrs. E. H. Ranson started to read a story named, "A Stroll in the Woods." Each guest added five words in order and when finished the completed story was read by Miss Todd.

The Ranson home was very prettily decorated for the occasion, the parlor being in pink and white, the sitting room in blue and white and the dining room in red, white and blue.

Remedy as Bad as the Disease.

"On the seventh of February I contracted a severe cold followed by a cough and final loss of voice. I tried many remedies none of which did me any good. I then went to my family doctor and he swabbed my throat five or six times with some abominable stuff. I think it was beneficial but the remedy was as bad as the disease. At last the thought struck me—why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? I did so and this morning my voice is fairly good and is gradually growing better," writes H. C. Clay, publisher of The Reporter, Rapid City, Manitoba. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

"GRANDMA" MUTCH DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER IN IOWA

Former Resident of Morgan County Passes Away at the Advanced Age of 82 Years—Burial in Diamond Grove.

Word was received in the city Monday of the death of "Grandma" Mutch, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Cockerall in Davenport, Ia. She had not been well for some time and relatives had received word Thursday so that her condition was quite critical, so that death was not all together unexpected. Mrs. Mutch was a woman whom every one appreciated and loved. She was of a happy disposition and, although past the three score and ten year mark, she appeared much younger. She always took a great delight in mingling with young people. Many will regret to hear of her death. She was a member of the Presbyterian church of Murrayville.

She was born in Scotland, Dec. 9, 1831, and came to this country when a girl. She was married 57 years ago to Alexander Mutch and he died thirty years ago. Since that time she has been making her home with the various children. There were nine children in the family and all are living except William. Those surviving are Mrs. William Allen, Mrs. Mary Slaughter, Jacksonville; Mrs. Jennie Parkin, Crookston, Minn.; Robert A. Mutch, Los Angeles, Calif.; Peter C. Mutch, Scottsville; James, San Francisco; Mrs. George Cockerall, Davenport, Ia.; John F. Mutch, Murrayville. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Betsy Rose of Madoras, Champaign county.

John T. Mutch has gone to Davenport and will accompany the remains to Jacksonville, where they will be taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Slaughter on East College street, where funeral services will be held. Burial will be made in Diamond Grove cemetery.

"BOUGHT AND PAID FOR."

Analyzing the story of "Bought and Paid For," William A. Brady's most recent New York Playhouse success, which comes to the Grand tomorrow night, one is forced to the conclusion that George Broadhurst, the author, wrote an exceptionally powerful drama because of the simplicity of its treatment of the theme. The plot is so straightforward that it might be written on a visiting card. The intense interest of the play is in its pointed dialogue and the frank unfolding of his skillfully drawn characters.

The story deals with the marriage of a wealthy man to a telephone operator. She is of humble origin and into her life of luxury lifts her sister and brother-in-law. In accepting the proposal of the millionaire she made no pretense of anything more than admiring and respecting her husband, but in two years this feeling develops into love which battles with pride, when, in a moment of drunken debauch, he tells her he has bought and paid for her. In her resentment she leaves her husband and refuses any assistance from him.

The developments which follow are interesting.

SHOOT'S FOOT WITH RIFLE.

William O. Hundley, who resides in the Lynnville neighborhood, shot himself in the foot with a rifle while out hunting Monday morning. Mr. Hundley cocked his rifle, which is a hammerless, preparatory to shooting a rabbit, but the animal got away. Forgetting that the gun was cocked he placed the end of the barrel on his right foot and in leaning his weight on it he pulled the trigger. The ball shattered the bone of the large toe, glanced and came out from the bottom of his foot. Dr. A. M. King was called and gave the injury the necessary attention.

A Hint to Young Mothers.

"When my children show the slightest symptoms of being croupy I give them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and when I have a cough or cold in the lungs I take it for a few days and am soon rid of the cold," writes Mrs. Clay Fry, Ferguson Sta., Mo. The first symptoms of croup is hoarseness, give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse and it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains no narcotic. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

HUNDREDS ATTENDED GATHERING FOR PARENTS AND TEACHERS

Were Present By Special Invitation of Supt. Gore—Normal Program of Speeches Followed by Social Hour.

The invitations sent out by Supt. Gore of the Jacksonville schools to the parents of all the children in the schools to be present at the high school last night met with a ready and general response. The occasion was in sense a meeting of the Parent-Teachers association, but at the same time the men and women were the special guests of Supt. Gore.

After a splendid musical program given by the high school orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Paul Morrison, Supt. Gore acting as chairman called the assembly to order and Mrs. A. C. Baldwin served as secretary.

Sympathy Between Parents and Teachers.

Mr. Gore expressed his pleasure in the presence of so large a company of parents and referred briefly to the purposes of the parent-teachers organization and of the good work that it can accomplish. He told of what the separate ward organizations are doing and of meetings that are planned for the near future. He said that he had announced no special speaker for the occasion because he wanted no formal and extended addresses but rather the opportunity for the parents and teachers to meet freely and to discuss matters of mutual interest and concern. The closer the sympathy and interest between the parents and the teachers the better the work of the schools.

Speaking further Mr. Gore said: "The results of acquaintance between parents and teachers will be manifold for as laws do not make reform so methods do not make good schools. They depend greatly upon the spirit of the people. I believe that the contact between teachers and parents will result in the parents giving to teachers the credit for knowing how to teach. Individual teaching is what we need for while the great number of pupils makes classes necessary there many pupils who do not fit into classes. For such cases an ungraded room would give benefit. Because a pupil is not able to meet the requirements of a certain grade is by no means proof that he has no mentality. Robert Louis Stevenson was unable to meet the test which his fellow pupils passed and others I might name of like intellect have made conspicuous failures in the common schools."

Some Homely Illustrations.

"In getting my own education I pursued the usual methods and studied the usual things. But some times now when I want a principle for application in the work I am doing a refer back not to some great writer but rather to my experiences in working at a grocery store. There my precepts were, know your customers, furnish good brands with reputations, do not keep too many side lines, watch your losses, take care of your dimes. As you think of it, all of these things will apply aptly to our educational work. For the teacher some rules which will bring good results are, know the parents, present the subjects in an attractive way, do not attempt too many side lines, take care of the failures and you will have no trouble in caring for the successes."

Discussed Various Themes.

E. D. Pratt emphasized the good work which is often accomplished and told of how from observation he had come to appreciate these additions to the school curriculum. J. W. Priest told of the advantage of promissiveness in all school matters and said that frequently the parents were to blame where children were late in beginning the school work or not able to reach school on time. John S. Hackett was introduced as a resident of South Jacksonville and referred to the efficiency of the present school management. He mentioned the new school tuition law and did not think that the present tuition asked for the high school was as much as the people are willing to pay a good price for a good article. Dr. A. L. Adams made some helpful suggestions on how parents may support members of the board of education and referred also to some educational work which has been undertaken by the schools at Gary, Ind. J. W. Walton spoke of the schools as a business factor.

Following this program of talks, the entire company numbering about 200 adjourned to the corridors on the first floor where more music was enjoyed and refreshments including coffee, doughnuts and cakes were served. The excellent refreshments were prepared in the home economics department and the serving was done by teacher. Altogether it was a delightful occasion and the social intermingling of parents with teachers and parents with parents cannot fail to bring to pass some good results. Mr. Gore's idea in having the meeting was well conceived and as well accomplished. There was some trouble with the electric lights about 9:15 and the company was for a time in darkness but a little later some gas jets were lighted and the people were but slightly inconvenienced.

RUMOR THAT CO. B. IS ORDERED TO SPRINGFIELD UNFOUNDED

Major Muir of Regular Army Inspects Company Monday Night—Eleven Recruits Enlist.

A rumor was current Monday that Co. B, I. N. G., had been ordered to Springfield in order to prepare for possible Mexican trouble but investigation proved that it was unfounded. When asked about the matter Monday night Capt. L. P. Owen stated that there was absolutely nothing in it but that he expects the company to be ordered out in case war is declared with the southern republic.

Major C. H. Muir of the 23rd Inf. of the regular army arrived in the city Monday afternoon and was present at the regular company drill last night. Major Muir has been ordered from his command to inspect the Illinois National Guard in order to see what condition the different companies are in. This inspection has no special significance as it is liable to take place any time. At drill last night there were present forty-two men in uniform and several recruits who have not yet been provided with equipment. Capt. Owen said last night that he has an enlistment of eleven recruits this week and that he had to turn away as many more.

Two large audiences greeted Rev. J. W. Miller Sunday after a week's absence, attending a missionary conference at Decatur and the great Anti-Saloon League convention in Columbus, Ohio. At the morning service the convention was reported as far as one speaker can produce twenty different speakers. Something of the spirit and enthusiasm was given both audiences for it was evident to all that the unusual convention had made a deep impression on the pastor. Some of the most dramatic utterances were recited. Miss Estella McQuay sang a beautiful solo in addition to a fine anthem by the choir. At night an audience nearly as large as the morning audience was present. The large chorus sang and Will Sooy gave a cornet solo. The sermon was one of a series being given by the pastor on "Night Scenes in the Bible." Four accessions to the church were received at the morning service.

This is home mission week at the church. Prayer meeting at the church Wednesday night will be under the auspices of the W. H. M. S. Next Sunday the annual sermon and thank offering of this society will be held.

Mrs. M. Lipkon of Springfield won the prize of $50 offered by the Emporium for the person who would buy the most goods from Oct. 17 to Nov. 17. Mrs. Lipkon was in the store one day last week and made purchases which totalled something over $100. The prize was given Monday at the store and all those who had competed were there from 12 to 2, the contest being in charge of Homer Potter of Farrell's bank, who examined the tickets. Mr. J. W. Peters of Merritt was a close second. Mr. Strauss, the manager, was very much pleased with his adventure and the fact that a Springfield woman made the largest purchase convinced him that people came a long way to trade in Jacksonville.

PROMINENT RED MAN DEAD.

J. F. Brennan yesterday received a telegram announcing the death of Robert Steer, great misanthrope of the Grand Council of Illinois Red Men. The telegram was from O. L. Whitmer of Springfield, secretary of the grand council, and stated that the funeral would be held Thursday in Kewanee. Mr. Steer had for years been identified with the order and was one of the most popular of the officers. Mr. Brennan will go to Kewanee to attend the funeral.

JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL CO.

AN INVOLVED QUESTION.

At the council session Monday morning the ordinance calling an election to vote upon the proposed light bond ordinance, was passed. The election will be held Saturday, December 20. The question to be decided at that time will not be simply whether or not the city shall issue bonds for the rebuilding of the light plant but the question of municipal ownership. The city lighting system is gradually getting into such condition that it is necessary to rebuild it and continue in the lighting business or close up the plant and buy current from the railway and light company.

Municipal ownership vs. a private contract will be the question at issue and it is right that the people have a chance to decide the matter. There are some strong arguments against municipal ownership tending to show that a city does not handle its affairs with the same care and wisdom that a private concern evidences. There are conspicuous examples of cities where municipal ownership has been expensive and well nigh a failure.

There are, however, many cases where municipal ownership has been successful to a marked degree and the tendency of the times is toward municipal ownership not only of electric plants but other utilities as well. People, many of them, have the well established idea that in surrendering a light plant which has been municipally owned that they are giving up something which has been a benefit and a protection to them. Before the election which is now several weeks in the future, the question of municipal lighting and private contracts should be fully aired and doubtless will be. The people are interested in these subjects and will study them as they never have before. Just exactly what the city council proposes to do in the way of rebuilding the light plant should be given publicity, and that by the way is the expectation and desire of the council.

The question of issuing bonds involves much more than appears upon the surface. It is related as has been stated to the whole question of municipal ownership. It will affect both light and water departments and will have much to do with all the business affairs of the city. In the same way the propositions made to buy lights from the Jacksonville Railway and Light company mean more than appears upon the surface. All of these propositions are made dependent upon the granting of long lived utility rights. So the weeks to come must be weeks of study on these important questions in order that the people of Jacksonville may take the best action for her welfare. If the people vote to surrender their municipal plant it should be only after they have informed themselves fully upon the subject.

THE PEOPLE AND THE SCHOOLS.

That was a splendid gathering of men and women at the Jacksonville High school last night. They represented every ward in the city and were attracted there by one common interest—the public schools of Jacksonville. Anyone who looked upon that throng could not fail to be impressed with what a great melting pot the public school is, fusing and bringing together as it does the social elements of a community and refining them all. In school matters the people meet upon one common ground. Their desires are one and the same, and a community of interest is certain to beget sympathy. Supt. Gore has the right idea in endeavoring to interest in a large way all the parents in the schools for with that spirit thoroughly aroused the increased efficiency of the schools is sure to follow.

GEN. CASTLEMAN KNOWN HERE.

The following dispatch from Louisville, Ky., was recently given space in the papers and has local interest. Regardless of the fact that he was once exiled from the United States, "never to return," a masterpiece was unveiled here today as a tribute to Gen. John B. Castleman. Friends of the daring confederate leader contributed the $15,000 paid for the life size equestrian statue and have hurried in placing it in Cherokee park that Gen. Castleman might see it himself.

As a member of Morgan's band of cavaliers Castleman led the party that carried the fire and sword of the confederacy to the most northern point reached in the civil war. He was captured later and imprisoned in Indianapolis, where an order from President Lincoln saved him from execution. At the close of the war he was banished from the country. A year later he was pardoned. In the war with Spain he served as colonel of the First Kentucky volunteers and was tendered a commission as brigadier general in the United States army.

Among the well known citizens of Jacksonville whose older citizens will remember was Mr. A. Buckley, father of Robert H. Buckley, now of Chicago. Unless I am mistaken, the Gen. Castleman referred to above was a son of Mrs. Buckley's sister, Mrs. Castleman. The latter often visited here at the home of the Buckleys. Mr. Buckley built the original part of Dr. Day's sanatorium which was afterward the home of B. F. Stevenson and Judge Edward Scott and the Durfee family. Mr. Buckley built the present Dobyns home on West State street.

When clothes are clean it is an easy matter to wring them with a Meadows—just press your foot on the pedal and the wringer starts. With the foot pedal control you have both hands free to feed the wringer and at the same time have perfect control of wringer. Wringer works at any of the tubs. Blending and Mixing

What is blended coffee? What is mixed coffee? You can mix sugar and salt, but can not blend them. Any grocer can mix several varieties of coffee, but lacking an expert's knowledge he can not produce a blended coffee.

There are different varieties of coffee—each possessing its own characteristics—all can be mixed, some can be blended; some are high in flavor, some possess great strength, some body, some are strong in caffeine, and others in acid. The expert blender puts these various growths together and produces a fine flavored, delicious, satisfying coffee.

This season's growth may be higher in flavor and lower in body, caffeine, or acid than last season's—no two seasons' growths ever being exactly alike—so the blender must vary his proportions, perhaps less flavor and more acid, so that he secures a perfect blend, the same flavor that has been sold under that particular brand before.

MISSIONARY FROM MADERIA AT NORTHMINSTER CHURCH

Rev. George B. Nind Tells of His Work in Foreign Fields—People in Beautiful Island Are Industrious—Will Work Out Problem of Republic.

Northminster church was well filled Sunday morning, afternoon and evening by audience gathered to listen to Rev. George B. Nind, Missionary to Maderia. The gentleman is a fluent speaker, deeply engrossed in his subject and a fine gentleman in all ways.

Here on Furlough.
He was born at St. Charles, Ill., and at an early age removed with his father's family to Winona, Minn., where his youthful life was spent. He was educated at the Northwestern University at Evanston and studied music in Chicago and became quite proficient in the art divine. He went to Brazil as a music teacher and remained ten years at Pernambuco and Para doing evangelistic musical and educational work and becoming proficient in the Portuguese language. He then returned to this country and did work among the Portuguese residents of New Bedford during which time he was regularly ordained as a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church. He felt it to be his duty to return to foreign missionary work and accordingly, in 1900 took a commission at Verda in Brana Island of the Azores group but was soon transferred to Maderia on which island he has since labored. He made a hurried trip once to this country on business connected with a hymnal which he was compiling but this is his first real furlough which he is now enjoying with headquarters at Holland, Michigan where his wife and daughter are at present.

Missionary Stations.
Mr. Nind has been engaged in evangelistic and educational work since going to Maderia and is deeply interested in it. Maderia is an island 38 miles long and ten to fifteen wide and has a population of 150,000. There are three missionary stations under the auspices of the Methodist church, the places being Funchal, St. Antonio and Serra, Machico. At each station there is a church with an evangelist together with schools both day and night. Workers are sent out into the country and some to other islands also and much good is accomplished. There is far greater tolerance than ever before and missionaries may now work without opposition or persecution and generally they are kindly received by the people who stand much in need of education and enlightenment.

People Very Industrious.
The people of Maderia and the other islands are industrious, thrifty and hard workers. They have to battle for existence but generally they are cheerful and contented but have less of the comforts and good things of life than people in this country. The islands have beautiful and grand scenery, the hills and mountains presenting the appearance of gigantic crazy quilts with the little fields in all stages of cultivation, some yellow, some green and others of varied hues.

Mr. Nind takes a hopeful view of the future of Portugal and its possessions. He feels certain the monarchy will never regain a foothold there and that the people will persevere till they work out the problem of their republic. The royal regime left a heavy debt with which the nation is struggling but there are hopes that it will be handled successfully and eventually paid all right.

Mr. Nind speaks the language like a native his effort here Sunday being much complimented by his hearers. He is in love with his work and enthusiastic regarding the churches there and the young people who are in the schools. At the end of his furlough in the spring he expects to return to his mission.

PLANS FOR CONSERVATION.
Washington, Nov. 17.—For the first time since the historic conference of governors at the white house, at which the conservation movement started five years ago, a national report has been compiled, showing just what conservation has accomplished in the different states. The National Association of Conservation Commissioners, a newly formed organization made up of conservation commissioners from all the states, held its initial meeting at the new Willard hotel today, preliminary to the opening of the national conservation congress tomorrow. Dr. George E. Condra of Lincoln, Neb., presided at the meeting. The commissioners reported what has been done in their states since the white house conference and discussed ideas and plans for extending the scope of their work.

LIGHT BOND ORDINANCE PASSED BY COUNCIL

ELECTION WILL BE HELD SATURDAY, DECEMBER 20TH.

Another Proposition Made Through Mr. Newman By Railway & Light Company—Prison Keeper Hurst Refuses to Resign Position.

At the city council meeting Monday morning the most important action taken was in the passage of a light bond ordinance and the election ordinance fixing Saturday, December 20, as the date for voting on the matter. A number of ladies were present, not so much to discuss light bond ordinance as to gather up whatever information they could from the discussion amongst the commissioners. A communication was read from James Hurst, keeper of the city prison, in which he declined to resign from his office, as requested by the council. Another lighting proposition was read from the Jacksonville Railway & Light company substantiating a former offer made Mr. Newman. Mayor Davis was absent attending to some matters relative to the funeral of his friend, Monte McFarland, who died Saturday in Peoria and in consequence Com. Knollenberg presided.

Order of Business.
After the reading of the minutes and other customary formalities, a communication was read from W. H. Parish and Austin Carter inviting the council to attend a reception to be given at Company L. hall, December 19th. The clerk also read a communication from James Hurst, city prison keeper, in which he declined to resign from his position as requested by the city clerk. Mr. Hurst stated that when he was appointed that it was with the understanding that he should have five living rooms on the first floor and two rooms and bath on the second floor and that he simply wanted what was necessary and agreed upon. He said that to resign now would indicate that he was wrong in his contentions and that he therefore would refuse to do so.

Mr. Newman said that Mr. Hurst had told him that the reason the council asked for his resignation was because he had voted in favor of local option. The other commissioners said this statement was simply absurd; that the only reason his resignation was asked for was because he had stated that he would rather surrender his position than the rooms and that the rooms were really needed. In the absence of the mayor action was postponed for one week.

To Remove Iron Boxes.
Mr. Newman said that there were a number of stop boxes connected with water mains sticking above sidewalks rendering walking dangerous to pedestrians and making the city liable for personal injury suits. He said he thought that the street and water departments should act together and have these boxes lowered so as to be on a level with the sidewalks.

Mr. Brennan said that the water department had nothing to do with these boxes and the reason a number of them protruded above the walks was because the walks had not been laid in accordance with specifications and that it was the business of the street department to see that this was done. He said that he had no authority to use funds from his department for any such purposes and whatever changes were made should be done by Mr. Newman's department.

Mr. Newman said that his department didn't have the proper tools and appliances for the work; he said in most cases where the boxes stick above the sidewalk that the work had been done under previous administrations. It was the general understanding that whenever changes are made it will be made by the street department and that all tools and equipment that the city has will be at the service of the department for this work. Mr. Newman asked how the Mathers street opening ordinance was progressing and City Attorney Thompson said he expected it to come up at his term of the court.

Postpone Equipment Resolution.
The city clerk said that he had the bond ordinance ready for a second reading. At this point Mr. Brennan offered a resolution setting forth that it would be the sense of the council that if an electric light plant be established that the preparatory work and work of installation shall be under the supervision of a competent expert and that the tungsten system of lighting shall be used. Mr. Brennan said that he had not known anything about the resolution before and that he was in favor of deferring action for one week. A second to this motion was made by Mr. Newman and action was deferred, the vote standing Engel and Newman against Brennan and Knollenberg, for. The tie vote had the effect of killing the motion.

Mr. Knollenberg reported that within a few days the city would be able to meet another month's payroll. He said that Mayor Davis was absent because he had been called to Peoria to arrange for a funeral of a friend. After the bond ordinance had been given a second reading and had been given discussion, Mr. Newman said he had another better proposition from Mr. Miser, which he wished to present to the council and it was as follows:

Mr. Miser's Proposition.
"Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 17, 1913.
"Mr. William Newman, Commissioner, Jacksonville, Ill.
"Dear Sir: Complying with your request of recent date, we will furnish layout for city lighting as specified by the board of public affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce for the same and that we made for 200 lamps, namely $12,000 per year.
"It is further understood that this lighting contract does not necessarily need to extend the length of our franchises, but can be made for ten years if it is desirable on the part of the city to do so, but otherwise our proposition as stated formerly will remain the same.

"Respectfully yours,
"W. B. Miser,
"General Superintendent."

Mr. Newman said he couldn't see why it was necessary to even think about a municipal plant when it was possible to get such a proposition as this from the McKelvey syndicate. He said that he had figured on the matter carefully and that he couldn't see it any other way than that this proposed contract would save the city $256,000 in the course of 20 years. And he said another factor was that if the railway and light company was given this contract that they would begin work within 24 hours and have their system in operation in 60 days. He said with a municipal plant it would take at least a year before there would be any revenue.

Question Goes to People.
An opportunity was then given for any person to speak. H. J. Rodgers said that he had asked Mr. Miser a week ago to make the very best proposition that the company cared to make and that a proposition had been submitted but it was evidently not as low a figure as the company would go, evidenced by the fact that the letter just read reduced the price from $15,000 to $12,000. He said that the resolution providing that the tungsten system shall be used and an expert employed in his opinion was not quite ample in its terms but that this matter could be fixed up later satisfactorily and need in no way interfere with action on the ordinance. The ordinance was then read and adopted, Com. Newman voting against it.

The ordinance calling the election to be held Dec. 20 was also read and adopted by a unanimous vote. Commissioner Knollenberg asked the ladies present if any of them wished to talk at all on the question. The ladies present were Mrs. J. H. Danks, Mrs. David Reid, Mrs. George Hollinger, Mrs. William Newman, Mrs. W. S. Badger, Mrs. Mary Frankenberg and Mrs. H. J. Capps. They wished the council to understand that they were present simply seeking for information and wanted in every way possible to avoid the appearance of taking an undue activity in local affairs. Now that they are required by law to assist in the settlement of local questions they feel that to act at all intelligently that they must look into the questions and in so doing there is necessary publicity of action.

Refers to Water Works History.
Mrs. Danks when called upon said that she had been interested in reading a day or two since a history of the local water works and mentioned that when the bonds were issued for the erection of the plant that the matter was supervised by a commission or committee of citizens. She said that she did not know why the action was taken at that time but possibly it would be worth while to have something of the kind in connection with the proposed light plant improvement.

Mrs. Badger asked as to what could be figured as a proper expense for operating a municipal plant? Mr. Pyatt said that it would hardly be fair to judge what a new and up to date plant would cost to operate by figures on the local plant but that during recent years the operation of the local plant had cost from $8500 to $10,000. Commissioner Brennan said that he knew of no better way to give experience in other cities than to furnish the ladies a copy of a report on the Hannibal plant which he said went into details fully and explained operation costs and other details. Mrs. Badger asked about possible sources of revenue and Mr. Brennan said that with a $50,000 plant that there would not be a great deal of current to sell commercially but that the money the city would save by doing its own pumping instead of buying current should be figured as a revenue. He said that the present average pumping bill is $1,000 a month. H. J. Rodgers said that according to his figures that with the equipment proposed and what the city has recently installed, that aside from pumping and furnishing the street lights that 75 K. W. could be used for commercial lighting.

Speculate on Commercial Lighting.
In answer to Mrs. Badger's question as to how much commercial light could be secured Mr. Brennan said that of course would depend upon circumstances and development but that he believed a large amount of business could be picked up practically just as rapidly as the city could equip itself to furnish it. Mr. Newman quoted from the report made by Mr. Bryant on the lighting situation to show that it would cost at least $125,000 to equip a plant for commercial lighting. Mr. Brennan said that was probably true where a plant must be erected wholly new and equipped to begin with for a large amount of commercial lighting in addition to a city lighting. He said, however, that there was no question but that $50,000 would put the local plant into condition for city lighting and for enough commercial lighting to make a revenue worth considering. He mentioned again why it is possible to install the improvements he has outlined to a cost something figured on by Mr. Bryant. He pointed out the fact that Mr. Bryant planned for a new building to cost $6,000 whereas the local plan is for a remodeled building to cost $2400. He said there were other items of saving in the local situation which had not been figured in the expert's report.

To give further information on the subject Mr. Pyatt read from a report handed him by Mrs. Danks in which C. W. Brown presented figures showing the original costs of the light plant, the cost of betterments and of running expenses, during the first eight years of operation, that is from 1895 until 1902. These expenses varied from three or four thousand to ten. After some further discussion the session was adjourned.

THINK INSURANCE TOO HIGH

Marlin, Texas, Nov. 17.—Members of the Southwestern Ice Manufacturers' association are gathering here for the nineteenth annual convention of their organization. The association has several hundred members in the leading cities and towns of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas.

The most important matter to be discussed by the convention is the subject of insurance rates on the ice factories and cold storage plants, which it is claimed are too high. The agitation may result in the formation of a mutual insurance company to include all plants having a membership in the association.

ONLY SLIGHTEST CHANCE REMAINS FOR RENOWNED RUBE WADDELL

The Great Southpaw is Now Fast in Grip of Tuberculosis.

About one month ago in the "Some off-Side Chutes" column the Journal made mention of the serious illness of George Edward Waddell, known in the baseball world as Rube. At that time it was reported he was about to leave for California in an endeavor to prolong his life. When Waddell learned that his illness had been spread broadcast throughout the country the erratic side of his nature asserted itself and he rushed into the Minneapolis newspaper offices and asked that the story be denied. He vowed he was in the best of health except for a cold contracted while on a hunting expedition in the north woods. He claimed he would be ready in the spring to again perform upon the pitcher's mound, and that the doctors who diagnosed his illness as tuberculosis had a few more guesses coming. From that time until today the great portlander has rapidly been growing weaker until he is now in the deadly embrace of the dreaded white plague. For once in his career Rube has been compelled to acknowledge that he is whipped and whipped so thoroughly that only a short time remains of the probation allotted by the Great Umpire of the Universe.

Columns upon columns have been written about Rube and his idiosyncrasy, some appearing in these columns upon divers occasions. But the unfortunate fellow did not make himself and was not at fault for the freakish stunts he from time to time pulled off. When nature fashioned George Edward Waddell it built him into a massive frame, broad of shoulder and stout in the limbs. It was more than liberal in the construction of his left side, the wing of which was the strongest ever exhibited to the baseball world. In shaping the Waddell frame nature "overdid" the job to such an extent that when the head was reached there was nothing left but a knob of ivory. Instead of brain providence provided him with a plethora of pumice stone and "fidgeting" sand. George Edward Waddell was not responsible for his acts and George Edward was Rube Waddell's only enemy.

In the zenith of his career Rube numbered his "friends" by the thousands; but now in the time of dire need they are few indeed. He is making arrangements to go to San Antonio, Texas, where a married sister lives, with whom he will spend the remaining days of his fast ebbing life. He is not without hope, and is endeavoring to convince himself that a short time spent in the balmy climate of the Lone Star State will rehabilitate him into the former great Rube. Waddell never was a pessimist, and now in his sad affliction he is just as optimistic as he was in his heyday as a ball player. When all that is mortal of Rube is consigned to Mother Earth fandom should mark the spot with a suitable shaft of granite, upon which should be emblazoned, "Here Lies a Good Fellow—George Edward (Rube) Waddell."

ECHOES FROM ALEXANDER

Alexander Happenings Always Interest Our Readers.

After reading of so many people in our town who have been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, the question naturally arises: "Is this medicine equally successful in our neighboring towns?" The generous statement of this Alexander resident leaves no room for doubt on this point.

John William Aulabaugh, farmer, Alexander, Ill., says: "About two years ago I took several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and will say that they did me more good than all the doctors I had tried. I have been bothered very little with my back since I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

The above is not an isolated case. Mr. Aulabaugh is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Aulabaugh had. 50c all stores. Following the close of the convention the members of the association and their families will take a trip to Havana.

WORLD FAMOUS JOCKEY KILLED BY AN L TRAIN

TOMMY BURNS JUMPS OR FALLS BENEATH CARS IN BROOKLYN.

King of the Saddle Had but Recently Returned From Germany, Where He Piloted the Horses of the Emperor for Several Years—Prominent on Turf For Quarter of Century.

Literally ground to pieces by the cruel wheels of an elevated train, on Friday afternoon last at Brooklyn, was a fate that none of his admirers in this country or in Europe dreamed was in store for T. H. (Tommy) Burns, the king of international jockeys for upwards of thirty years. Whether his death was a deliberate suicide or an accident will forever remain unsolved. The last person to see him alive was the station agent, who noticed the jockey pacing up and down the platform just before the train pulled in. His fur-lined overcoat and hat were found on a platform bench. Diamonds, a considerable sum of money and a bank book showing deposits in a Berlin bank, as well as a contract to ride there next season, were found on the body.

Tommy Burns had but recently returned from Germany, where he had been under contract with the Prussian emperor, whose stable raced under the name of Count Lehndorf, and it is supposed he was on his way to his home, which was in the beautiful Sheepshead Bay district of Brooklyn.

Was King of Jockeys.

Tommy Burns, the premier of international jockeys, was "discovered" by Blonnie Charley Ellison nearly thirty years ago, and for Tommy it was a lucky discovery. The youngster "followed the horses" from his home some place near Brantford, Canada, and pulled up in Chicago in the early 'eighties. He "set up" at the old Garfield track and occasionally migrated as far as the merry-go-rounds at Sheffield and at Forsythe, across the line from South Chicago. At these places he was sometimes employed as jockey or exercise boy, with now and then an opportunity being offered to ride as apprentice. He had no home except the box stall at one of these racetracks, and eating was no regular habit with him. Charley Ellison, then a hotel clerk as well as police clerk at the East Chicago avenue police court, happened across the future great jockey at one of the above mentioned racetracks. He noted the boy's actions when astride a thoroughbred; he took mental observations of his seat upon his mounts, and did not overlook the fact that he had the best pair of "horse hands" of any of the jockeys and apprentices then sporting the silks. The blonde plunger opened negotiations with Burns, took him to his hotel, fed him and provided him with a room. Ellison contracted the youngster's mounts and acted as a father toward him, keeping him away from evil influences and instilled in Burns the idea of "laying by for a rainy day." Charley took the boy south for winter racing, and the first season at Memphis and at New Orleans he was so successful that John C. Schorr of Memphis, then racing the largest stable in the west, contracted with Ellison for first call upon Burns' services. This was the opportunity both Ellison and Burns had been searching for. The Schorr stable numbered in its list the best handicap horses on this side of the Atlantic ocean, but the string had always been badly handled by incompetent riding talent.

Ellison and Burns Become Rich.

From the beginning of his contract with the Memphis owner Burns jumped into the lead of American jockeys and the Schorr stable to one of the best money-getters in the United States and Canada. In those days speculation on the races was unrestrained and with Burns' success with the Schorr string Charley Ellison became the leading plunger of that time. To his friends he would advise: "Play Burns when he has a Schorr mount." Ellison speculated that way with the result that both he and Burns became immensely wealthy. When the Schorr contract expired Burns went to New York, where he entered into contract with Father Bill Daly and Dave Gleason, with whom he remained two seasons, when he signed with the late Hon. W. C. Whitney, whose leading jockey he was for several years, until he refused again to sign, so that he might become a free lance. In the latter capacity his field of operations was largely increased and his income became double and sometimes treble that of the president of the United States.

Burns was the best judge of pace who ever straddled a thoroughbred. In a long race he rated his mount and nursed it along until the stretch was reached, and at this point his charge always had something left for a gruelling finish. In a sprint he invariably jumped his horse into the lead and if the stuff was in the horse, everything else in the race was picking up clouds of turf from its flying hoofs. Burns was alert at the post and no combination of jockeys ever was able to send him into a pocket at any stage in a race. Tommy out-lived on the turf some Perkins and George Hicks (colored), Tod Sloan, George Odum, Jimmy McLaughlin, Winnie O'Connor, Willie Shaw, Arthur Redfern, Grover Cleveland Fuller, Helgeson, Snapper Garrison and Harry Phillips, all stars of a generation past. Burns was head and shoulders above all of these topnotchers. At the time of his death he was rated far in advance of Danny Maher, Wooten, Lucien Lyne, the two Reifs, Turner, Eddie Dugan and all of the other jockeys riding in Europe at the present time.

Burns was married about fourteen years ago to the daughter of Jimmy McLaughlin, a former jockey and now a successful trainer. Two children resulted from this union, who, with his widow, will inherit an immense fortune, mostly in choice Sheepshead Bay real estate and two large farms situated on Long Island. Guy Burns, who has been riding in the eastern and Canadian circuit, is a brother of the dead king-pin of jockeys.

TO URGE DEEPER WATERWAYS.

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 17.—Men who are vitally interested in the development of waterways throughout the entire country, but mainly those in the eastern part of the United States, are gathering in this city to take part in the sixth annual convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterway association. The sessions of the convention will begin tomorrow and continue until Friday. The mornings will be given to business and the afternoons to sightseeing, including a trip up the St. Johns river.

The sessions will be presided over by Congressman J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, who is president of the association. Governors, congressmen, mayors and representatives of boards of trade, maritime and commercial organizations from many states will take part in the proceedings. The association is working for the improvement of harbors and inland waterways throughout a large section of the country, but its chief aim is to promote the construction, as a national enterprise, of a chain of canals connecting natural and protected waterways along the Atlantic coast, thereby forming a continuous inner navigation route from Boston to Key West. The Cape Cod ship canal and other important links in this proposed waterway are already completed or under construction and it is hoped that with government aid the entire project may become an accomplished fact within the next decade. Addresses and papers will be presented to the convention covering practically every phase of the subject by men familiar with the problems the undertaking presents.

SPOKANE'S BIG APPLE SHOW.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 17.—Carloads of the choicest products of the orchards of the northwest were placed on display here today at the opening of the sixth National Apple Show and Fruit Products congress. The exhibition will continue through the week. Following last year's successful innovation, the apple show is to be combined with a congress of Pacific northwest fruit growers, bankers, transportation experts and business men, who will discuss financing, marketing, storage and other problems of the fruit growing industry. Many delegates are already in the city from Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

THE COST OF ELECTRIC POWER

LISTEN TO THIS STATEMENT

University of Illinois

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 11, 1913.

Chamber of Commerce Committee,
Jacksonville, Ill.

Replying to your letter of Nov. 6. In regard to cost per k. w. to produce current under normal conditions, it is rather difficult to state without careful examination of the conditions in your city and the installation we have laid out for you what the cost will be. You cannot hope to produce and deliver the energy to the switchboard in the 600 k. w. plant for less than an average of $1\frac{1}{2}$ cents per k. w. hour. The price would run close to 2 cents or $2\frac{1}{2}$ for the first four or five years of operation until you had picked up a major portion of the city load commercial as well as lighting. For the smaller sized plant for operating the lighting system alone of about 150 or 200 k. w. capacity, the cost would range from 2 to 3 cents per k. w. hour delivered to the switchboard.

These figures above stated do not cover the cost of delivering the energy to the consumer. From recent figures I have been compiling it would seem that figuring in the fixed charges, maintenance and repairs on the distribution system it would cost from 5 to 12 cents per k. w. hour for the energy delivered to the lamps or to the customers. The greater the amount of energy delivered over the pole line to consumers the less would be the cost per k. w. hour delivered, also the time in the day when the load was taken together with other items which make up cost of delivery of energy would have to be taken into account.

Signed,
J. M. BRYANT

Prof. Bryant was secured by the Directors of the Chamber of Commerce to review the local lighting situation. He is a man who stands high in authority on matters of public lighting. As first assistant in the department of electricity at the great University of Illinois he has occasion to make a study of these questions. The unprejudiced expert opinion is that to produce current in Jacksonville with a plant our size the cost is from 5c to 12c per kilowatt.

And you can easily give your blood a good thorough cleansing, a bath by using S. S. S. There is no need for anyone to be dependent over the illness of blood impurities. No matter how badly they attack the system, or how unsightly becomes the skin, just remember there is one ingredient in S. S. This means that all decay, all breaking down of the tissues, is checked and repair work begins. S. S. Giant Dam and Lock Which Make
Tennessee River Navigable the Year Round

Water power is playing a big part in the development of southern industries. The giant $9,000,000 dam and lock at Hale's bar, in the Tennessee river near Chattanooga, Tenn., is a new enterprise that will vastly increase the business of a large territory and benefit navigation in the Tennessee river by raising the height of the river and keeping it at a uniform level the year round. The United States government and private capital combined to make this notable improvement, from which electric power will be supplied for many miles around. In the illustration are shown the dam and the lock, which is big enough to remind one of a lock in the Panama canal.

WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

SPECULATION LISTLESS IN STOCK MARKET

WALL STREET IS WAITING FOR NEWS AND INVESTORS DO LITTLE.

Price Changes for the Most Part Are Insignificant—Tone of Market Is Determined by the London Market
Where Americans Are Heavy.

New York, Nov. 17.—Speculation was listless all day long and except in isolated instances price changes were insignificant. In the first hour there was a sharp decline, which carried down the leaders a point or so.
A recovery came quickly. In the afternoon speculation was listless.
Wall street is waiting for news and investors are doing next to nothing.

There was plenty of news today, regarding Mexico, the trade situation, events at Washington and other things in which the street is interested but it was not news of first importance. There was nothing which indicated decisive developments.

With no occurrences at home to affect the market at the opening, the tone was determined by the London market where Americans were heavy.
The coppers failed to benefit by the strong showing made in the for-nightly report of European supplies, showing a decrease of more than 3,000,000 pounds. Intermittent buying in Europe has comparatively little effect, on account of stagnant conditions in the domestic market.
Assets realization fell 20 points to 9.14, sold at 120 earlier in the year.
Officials of the company said they knew of no reason for the slump.

A HAPPY CHILD IN JUST A FEW HOURS

When cross, constipated or if feverish give "California Syrup of Figs" then don't worry.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it cannot cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.—Adv.

No Indigestion, Gas, Sourness or Upset Stomach if You'll Take "Pape's Diapepsin"—Try This!

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have.

Sa's Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that one's system collects.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women, as well as men, take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets now and then use to keep in the pink of condition.

WILL TRY YOUNG GIRL FOR MURDER OF BROTHER-IN-LAW.

Facts About West Virginia Tragedy Will Be Sought at Trial This Week—Defendant Will Plead Unwritten Law.

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 17.—The term of court which convened today in the little town of Wayne, the seat of the county of the same name and situated some fifteen miles south of this city, will be made notable by the trial of one of the most sensational cases of alleged murder in the history of this section.

The defendant is Letha Perdue, a pretty girl who only recently passed her 16th birthday. The victim of the tragedy was the girl's brother-in-law, James Kendrick, 26 years old and a member of the fire department of this city. On the afternoon of June 11 last, Kendrick was shot and killed in the Perdue home, near the village of Kellogg and only a short distance across the county line from this city. The Perdue girl made no attempt to deny the fact that she had fired the fatal shot.

That the defense will probably rely upon a plea of "the unwritten law" is indicated by the girl's statement to the effect that she killed Kendrick because he had wronged her. Relatives of the slain man, however, vigorously deny that any such cause existed for the tragedy and they have announced their intention to aid in the prosecution of the young girl.

On the day of the tragedy Kendrick had gone to the Perdue home to get his little child, born to the father's union over six years ago with a sister of the girl who killed him. Accompanying Kendrick to the house was his second wife, a bride of three weeks. As Kendrick stepped into the dining room, Letha Perdue entered the room from the other side. "Well," said Kendrick, "get the baby ready—I want to take him home with me."

"Jim," said the young girl, "what do you mean by treating me this way? You asked me to marry you and we were engaged. You knew I loved you and I thought you loved me."

"You are a liar," exclaimed Kendrick, according to the members of the Perdue family who witnessed the tragedy. "I never did intend to marry you."

Kendrick, according to the girl's statements, then started toward her with a threatening gesture. Whipping a revolver from his folds of her skirt, the girl began firing. The first shot went through Kendrick's shoulder and he grappled with his assailant. A second shot was fired and the bullet crashed through Kendrick's chest. As her victim sank to the floor Miss Perdue placed the revolver to his head and fired two bullets into his brain.

Helped Down Fire Escape When Northwestern University Building Catches.

Dr. Green Vardaman Black, dean of the Northwestern University Medical school of Chicago, had his life endangered Saturday afternoon when fire broke out in university building, but assisted by two students made his way down to the ground uninjured. The dental school is on the fifth and sixth floors of the building. There were more than two hundred students and patients in the operating room when a panic was caused by the appearance of smoke.

The Chicago Sunday Tribune, in which an account of the accident occurs, contains a picture of Dr. Black on his way down the fire escape. Dr. Black is formerly of Jacksonville and is the father of Dr. Carl E. Black of this city.

DEDICATION OF

NEW M. E. CHURCH

FRANKLIN EDIFICE SET APART FOR WORSHIP SUNDAY.

Impressive Sermon Given By Bishop W. A. Quayle of Chicago—Over $12,000 Subscribed In Forty Minutes—Other Services of the Week.

The beautiful new Methodist church of Franklin, was dedicated Sunday morning with impressive exercises in charge of Bishop W. A. Quayle, who was heard in a masterly sermon. At the close of his sermon $12,300 was subscribed in forty minutes, which will meet the deficit of the structure, which cost $25,000. The weather was unpropitious for a dedication, and while many from the country and a distance were kept away, goodly sized audiences were present at all the services and the event marked a Red Letter Day in the history of Methodism in Franklin. The pastor of the church, Rev. Peter Kittel, church trustees and stewards are to be congratulated.

upon the manner in which the entire church building was planned and executed. The building is modern in every way and with its splendid equipment, including a fine pipe organ, there is every reason to believe that the church is bound to exert a great influence for good.

Sunday Morning Service.

The services opened at 10 o'clock with Miss Mattie Deatherage of Waverly at the organ. The prayer was by Rev. Robert Stephens of Danville and the scriptural lesson was read by Dr. J. R. Harker. The solo of the morning was by Mrs. Darby Virgin of East St. Louis who gave Buck's "Fear Not Yet, O, Israel."

The sermon by Bishop W. A. Quayle was one of the most masterly ever heard in Franklin. He took for his text Matthew 4-2, "He was afterwards an hungered." The dedication exercises, according to the rites of the Methodist church were impressive and it was an hour toward which the people had long been working and praying for.

$12,300 Was Raised.

After the sermon steps were taken to raise $12,000, the sum needed for the completion of the $25,000 building. An outline of the finances was given and Bishop Quayle stated that was the purpose of the church management to raise $300 every minute for forty minutes. The plan met with the hearty approval of the workers and when the time was up the $12,000 had been raised and an additional sum of $300. It was a time when both old and young, rich and poor gave toward the new building and it seemed a pleasure for the people to contribute. Among those who gave largely were H. J. Kepplinger and B. Kepplinger and whose total contributions amounted to $9,000. Of this amount raised two years time was given in which to pay. One half of the sum was paid in by noon Monday.

After the benediction by Rev. John S. Smith of Waverly, the visitors were given dinner in the commodious basement of the church and also after the evening services many took advantage of the opportunity to eat there.

Sunday Afternoon

The Young People's hour was observed in the afternoon. At this service two boys dedicated their lives to the Lord and the work of the church and following them 12 were received into full connection. The Lord's supper was partaken of with Rev. F. A. McCarty in charge. Among those who spoke in the Sunday afternoon and evening services were Rev. M. M. Want, Homer; Rev. N. R. Johnson, New Berlin; Rev. W. H. McGhee, Nokomis; Rev. George Rolston, Rev. Mr. Rolston was born and reared in Franklin and it was here that he was ordained to preach fourteen years ago. The benediction of the afternoon was given by Rev. James E. Teany of the Franklin Christian church and the benediction of the evening service was by Rev. Charles Wehrman of Chatham.

Rev. H. M. Hamill Speaks.

The dedication services of Monday evening included a forceful sermon by Dr. H. M. Hamill of Nashville, Tenn., who was formerly associated with the Franklin church.

Fellowship Banquet.

The fellowship banquet will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Prof. L. Roy Branson will be toastmaster and all friends will be cordially invited. The following is the program:

Looking Backward.

The Church of Yesterday—Dr. H. M. Hamill, 1883-88; Charles Wehrman, pastor 1889-91.

Looking About Us.

The Church of Today—M. M. Want, pastor 1897-1900; W. H. McGhee, pastor 1891-95.

Male Quartette "Beautiful Threads of Gold"—Messrs. Seymour, Branson, Olinger and Eador.

Looking Forward.

The Church of Tomorrow—Peter Kittel, pastor.

The Sunday School—Edward F. Seymour, Superintendent.

The Epworth League—Elgin D. Olinger, president.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society—Mrs. Jennie Burch, president.

Rev. Peter Kittel, the efficient pastor of the church was born and reared at West Point, Ill. He was ordained to preach by Bishop Warren when the conference met at Beardstown and he was ordained an elder by Bishop Fowler at Quincy. He went to Franklin in 1912 from Meredosia where he was pastor for three years. His first pastorate was at Coatsburg, 1899. For six years he was in the Danville district and for three years in the Bloomington district. Rev. Mr. Kittel is a tireless worker for his church and much of the interest in the new edifice has been due to his enthusiasm. The pastor, however, is an unassuming man and takes no honors unto himself in whatever work he does, believing that without the hearty support of the entire membership of the church all efforts would be in vain.

MONTE MCFARLAND DIES AT HOSPITAL IN PEORIA

Well Known Baseball Player Succumbs to Attack of Pneumonia. Started Baseball Career in Illinois College. Was Buried Yesterday at White Hall.

La Mont McFarland, widely known in the baseball world, and who began his career with a team from Illinois college, died suddenly of pneumonia in the Peoria hospital in Peoria Saturday morning. He took ill with pneumonia on Thursday night. Perhaps no player in baseball was better known throughout the country and especially this section than "Monte." He was born in White Hall 41 years ago and it was while there that he attended the public schools. From a youngster he began to develop athletic tendencies, and found his greatest delight in baseball. After he became a young man, through the influence of James O. Vosseller of this city, who used to catch for him on the White Hall high school team, he came to Illinois College, where he pitched several games for the team. From Illinois College he went to Rushville where he joined an independent league, staying there one year. Next he joined Cedar Rapids of the Three I league, under Belden Hill. He then went to Fort Worth, where he joined the Texas league. After a year's playing there he was drafted by the White Stockings (Chicago) of the National league, which team is now known as the Chicago Cubs. He pitched one year for them and at that time the White Stockings had that great stone wall infield, composed of Anson at first, Pfeffer at second, Williamson at short and Tommy Burns at third. After remaining here one year he went to Providence, R. I., of the Eastern league. After this he managed a number of teams, among them Decatur, Cedar Rapids, Oklahoma City and others. For the past two years he had been umpiring in the Illinois-Wisconsin league.

Not only was McFarland a good mound artist but he also filled the first sack and a place in the outfield with equal ability. His popularity was evidenced by the large number of telegrams which the family received from baseball players all over the country, including Callahan, "Doc" White, professional men. There were also telegrams of condolence from baseball managers and two telegrams from governors, who had watched Monte's work. He was a man who made friends wherever he went and was liked both on the diamond and off.

Mayor George W. Davis was an old time friend of the deceased and he went to Peoria, to accompany the remains to White Hall where funeral services were held from the Fox Undertaking parlors, in charge of Rev. Mr. Rue of the Presbyterian church. Members of the Knights of Pythias, of which organization Mr. McFarland was a member, took part in the services, furnishing a quartet for the music. The flowers were very beautiful and cared for by friends. The remains were laid at rest in the White Hall cemetery and the bearers were Messrs. Harry Bell, Guy Lowenstein, Jesse Morgan, W. W. Davis, Frank Vosseller, Mark Lowenstein. Among those who attended the services from this city were J. O. Vosseller and Mayor Davis.
